

THORNE FIRE CALLS ATTENTION TO NEED FOR LAKE RUNWAYS

Inn Burns to Ground; Volunteers Go to Lake Villa for Water

The necessity for runways along the lake shores in this area at intervals of five hundred feet for proper fire protection was again brought to the attention of interested citizens last week-end when the Charles Thorne property known as the Lone Oak Inn at Cedar Lake burned to the ground while Antioch fire volunteers went for a second supply of water.

The fire broke out on the roof of the building from causes which have not been ascertained, according to James Stearns, fire chief. The water supply carried by the fire truck was soon exhausted and several volunteers were forced to leave the scene of the fire to drive to Lake Villa where they secured a second supply at the Soo Line water tank. They were further hampered by inadequate facilities for connecting the truck with the tank.

Damage to the building which was completely destroyed, was estimated by Mr. Thorne at $6,000.

Mayor to Advocate Runways

Al B. Maler, deputy sheriff and fire agent who witnessed the fire from the outset, stated early this week that he intends to advocate the necessity for runways to the Lake Improvement Association of this section. Both Mr. Maler and Fire Chief Stearns stated there would be little expense in making gravel runways.

Stearns in commenting on the matter, stated that the Heinzelema fire recently was within 200 feet of the lake, but because there was no runway, it was impossible to get to the water with the truck to pump the water for use, and that some-what similar circumstances existed in the Lehmann fire.

Resort Was to Open

The Thorne resort was leased by Mrs. Pierce who was planning to open a resort there within the next few weeks. She carried no insurance on the portion of the contents which were her property. Insurance was carried on the building amounting to $4,500 and on the contents belonging to Thorne amounting to $1,200.

The main section of the building was the Cedar Lake Schoolhouse originally and was about seventy-five years old. It was at one time known as Mrs. Frydell's Country Dining Room. Shortly before the opening of the Milwaukee Avenue pavement, the building was remodeled.

No one was occupying the building at the time of the fire, although Mrs. Pierce had been there the same day. Up until two months ago the John L. Vos family resided there.

The fire department was called out to a fire at Deep Lake Friday afternoon of last week when Henry Bartlett's car caught fire. The car was destroyed except for the tires and the engine.

Junior Ball Practise to Start Next Week

Legion Leaders Enthusiastic
Over Material Available

Practice for the Junior Baseball team, composed of boys up to 17 years of age, to be sponsored by Antioch Post No. 748 of the American Legion, will start next week according to Walter Hill, athletic director of the organization.

Believing that there is material for a championship team among Antioch boys, leaders of the post are enthusiastic regarding plans for the season's national Junior Baseball Tournament, held under the auspices of the American Legion.

Schedules for local games have not yet been drawn up, but it is anticipated that the playing will start sometime in May. Lake County teams will play for the county title, the holder of that title to continue in the tournament until eliminated.

Frank Woods of Allendale will coach the team aided by Monte Miller and Fred Hackett. Boys from Antioch and Allendale will be eligible to membership.

Announcement and plans regarding the tournament were made at the meeting held last Thursday night. A resolution, endorsing President Franklin D. Roosevelt, one hundred per cent was adopted at the meeting.

Legion Escort Present at Truax Burial Rites

Services Conducted by A.
H. Pierstorff at Millburn Church

With a military escort formed by twenty-five Legionnaires from Antioch Post No. 748, William A. Truax, 40 years old, who died last Thursday, was buried Saturday in Millburn Cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. A. H. Pierstorff at Millburn Congregational Church.

Mr. Truax died in a Waukegan hospital following an illness of several weeks. He was the father of four children, who with his wife, survive him. Two sisters, Lulu Truax and Mrs. Otto Menn of Kenosha, Wis., and three brothers, Aubrey Truax of Lake Villa, Charles Truax of Antioch, and Philip Truax of Waukegan, also survive him.

The firing squad, color guard, bugler, and commander of the Legion made up the military escort which attended the services. Mr. Truax served in the United States navy on an Asiatic cruise between 1911 and 1915, being honorably discharged in June of the latter year.

Born in Waukegan, he spent his early boyhood there previous to joining the navy. He married Ida Mae Strang in 1917 at Millburn. His four children are Everett, Donald, Carroll and Lois.

ANDERSONS RETURN FROM CAL.; RELATE QUAKE EXPERIENCES

Sav Damage Is Great, But Less Than Is Claimed;
Glad to Be Back

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Anderson, who were in Los Angeles, Cal., twenty-five miles from Long Beach, at the time of the earthquake, returned last week-end with reports that the quake has not done as much damage as has been claimed, although the damage is great, due mainly to cheaply constructed buildings.

At the time of the first quake, the Andersons were both in Los Angeles staying at a hotel, although Mrs. Anderson was not in the building. Mr. Anderson stated that he immediately realized what was happening when the first shock came, rocking the light fixtures and pushing up the floor and walls.

The Andersons were glad to be back and Mr. Anderson says, "My advice is to stay away from earthquakes. Mr. Anderson had an interest in two buildings in the area which were damaged slightly.

Electricity and gas were turned off immediately after the first shocks to avoid the danger of fire, he stated. Immediately after the first quake, many people began leaving for home by rail and car. Most people experienced a fear, for several minutes after each shock, that they were going to be seasick, according to Mr. Anderson. Telegraph offices experienced such a rush of business that messages were delayed.

He expresses confidence that most of the buildings damaged will be rebuilt, and will be better constructed than originally. He named the Athletic Club, banks, office buildings, and department stores as types of better buildings which were destroyed. Many buildings had cracks in the walls and the plaster fell during the quakes.

He criticized the construction of the school buildings, saying that nearly all were damaged, as were most large garages, because they contained large rooms with wide wall spaces which lacked support.

During the first twenty-four hours, Mr. Anderson states, there were one hundred ten shocks. Many of the later shocks further damaged buildings which were damaged previously. The three major shocks in the first quake were about five minutes apart.

An interesting phenomenon of the quake, mentioned by Mr. Anderson, was that the shocks were not noticed by people who were riding in cars, but cars which were standing still shook worse than if they were doing a "shimmy."

The shocks continued for ten days according to his account. He described them as starting from the channel between Catalina Island and Long Beach.

Had Active Interest in Husband's Business; Funeral

Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. Philip T. Bohl of the Antioch Methodist Church, were held from the home on Fox Lake.

Mrs. Joyce was actively interested in the railroad business having served as treasurer of the Wisconsin and Michigan railway for more than thirty years.

Her death came at Waukegan, Wis., following a long illness. She was born at St. Mary's, Ohio, and was 61 years old at her death. Besides her husband, a brother, J. L. Shaw, survives her.

Taxpayers' Petition to Invalidate Bonds Delayed

Because the celebrated McLaughlin case was not concluded in Judge Ralph Dady's circuit court last week until Friday night, the Lake County Central Taxpayers Association suit to invalidate Grant Community High School bonds amounting to $55,000 was indefinitely postponed.

The case of the taxpayers, being taken into court through the leadership of E. R. Orvis, president of the association, has been brought in an attempt to invalidate the $55,000 in bonds which the plaintiffs charge are illegal because the school board had previously exceeded its bonding limit of $72,000.

Orvis early this week stated that he blames the delay of the trial on political interference.

In Lake Villa township also two full tickets appear on the ballot which voters will mark at the annual election next Tuesday.

In the independent ticket appears the name of C. H. Stratton, incumbent supervisor who has held the office for several terms and who is a candidate for re-election. Stratton was formerly chairman of the county board.

Opposing Stratton is Everett R. Orvis, president of the Central Lake County Taxpayers' Association, who has been active in the cause of tax reduction in his own township and throughout the county. Orvis heads the Citizens ticket.

Albert Kapple, veteran town clerk and a candidate for re-election on the independent ticket, is opposed by G. P. Manzer, retired farmer.

Carl D. Hughes, first appointed assessor by the town board to fill the unexpired term of the late Gene Wilton, was re-elected to that office in 1931, and is again a candidate on the independent side of the ballot. His opponent is Howard Wilton, the Citizens party candidate.

Four seek justice of the peace jobs in the town of Lake Villa, with two to elect. The independent candidates are L. G. Brinkman, Lake Villa grocer, and C. H. Keller, incumbent. Edward Leonard, attorney, and Wm. M. Weber are the Citizens party entrants.

For constable, voters will have a choice of three on the printed ballot, with two to elect. Erwin Barnstable, carpenter, is the independent candidate. The names of Vergne Nixon, Allendale attache, and Royal Falch, farmer, are the Citizens candidates. Frank Richards is the sole candidate for school trustee, and his name is listed under the Citizens banner.

Fields Buys Out Martin Zimmerman

Mr. Fields has been a partner in the business for the past two years. Before that time he was a state game warden. No plans for the immediate future have been made by Mr. Zimmerman, who states that he intends to rest for awhile at his home, 704 Main St. He will continue as owner of the building in which the parlor is located.

Previous to his business activities in Antioch, he operated hotels at Fox Lake and Pistakee, and Camp Lake.

COURT ORDER HALTS SALES TAX COLLECTION

Collection of Illinois' new sales tax, scheduled to begin Saturday, was ordered halted in Chicago and throughout the state last night in a temporary injunction issued by Judge Jesse R. Brown of the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

The injunction was directed against the state auditor, and all other Illinois and County officials charged with collection of the tax. The order also forbade them from spending money to set up the machinery for collection of the tax.

The tax was to have been put into effect April 1, the first collection to be made May 15. William O'Connell, attorney for the state auditor, stated that he fears the injunction will be effective in halting the tax collection.

SALOON OR TAVERN?

In Wisconsin a bill regulating the manufacture and sale of beer is already being drafted and will be presented to the legislature this week.

Under the regulating bill the word "saloon" becomes "tavern" and barkeepers will be called "operators."

In Chicago the terms of the past are being revived for some who have forgotten them and the younger generation who never knew them.

And so as we enter the promised land which flows with beer and pretzels, the old time names return such as "stein," "schooner" and the bartenders' tools of trade such as "rubber" and "squeegee."

Many are asking what is the difference between the two bills presented at Washington. According to Dr. Test, assistant professor of Orthopedic Surgery at Northwestern University, the difference between 3.05 and 3.2 beer would be 18.68 drops of alcoholic content in an eight-ounce glass of beer.—McHenry Plaindealer.

THE SALES TAX

Illinois launches an experiment Saturday when the sales tax placing a three per cent tariff on practically all retail purchases, goes into effect. Whether the experiment is a success depends on whether the tax shall become a replacement at the end of the two years set for its trial, or whether it will be just an additional burden placed on the people of the state.

The sales tax was conceived largely for the purpose of supplying funds for relief work in Cook County and furnishing additional funds for down state schools. It is impossible to estimate with any degree of precision the revenue which will accrue from the tax, but it will inevitably be the source of a good share of the state's income, unless it is thrown into channels of added expenditures.

Although at present only preliminary regulations for the operation and enforcement of the tax have been issued, a concise idea of the method of procedure in regard to the tax may be obtained from an announcement which comes from the state department of finance this week.

According to the announcement, commodities will be exempted from the tax in the case of motor fuel, farm produce sold directly to the consumer, merchandise sold by manufacturers, jobbers or wholesalers and intended for re-sale, that on which compensation is received primarily for services rendered, merchandise sold in interstate commerce, and that sold to the government.

Further, retailers will be required to indicate on the sales ticket or on placards posted in the stores that merchandise is priced to include this tax.

The procedure for carrying the sales tax into effect, as mapped out at present, is comparatively simple, with little red tape attached to make it unduly burdensome for the merchant.

A tax which will relieve the burden on real estate is by all means desirable as is also a tax which is derived from the people at large and not a single class. It is the task of Illinois voters to watch this tax to see that it becomes in truth a replacement and not another millstone on the already heavy load.

SOW SPRING SAFETY SEEDS EARLY

As winter begins to relax, golfers start thinking of fairways, fishermen of cool streams trickling away in the mountains, families of rides on warm, bright Sunday afternoons and in the twilight of the rapidly lengthening evenings. It's time to get the family automobile ready for another season.

Let us pause for a moment to consider the new season. Will it be like the last? Will it cost the lives of 29,500 more Americans? Will it bring serious and painful injury to nearly a million more? Will it cause an economic loss to the nation in excess of two billion dollars? That's the record of the 1932 automobile season. It should never be repeated.

It is true that there were few accidents and fatalities last year than there were in 1931, but much of the reduction was accounted for by decreased use of automobiles. On the other hand, safety workers and educators in accident prevention can view the results with a certain personal pride. If their teachings are beginning to gain results, or if the tragic record of the past is beginning to influence the man behind the steering wheel, we may look with greater hope to 1933.

"Get out the family car by all means," says James A. Beha, General Manager, National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. "Make sure it's in perfect condition. Have it inspected as to brakes, lights, steering mechanism, tires, rear vision mirrors and windshield wipers—all the small equipment which means so much to safety. Then resolve to drive safely, obey traffic laws and think of the other fellow."

If you do this, you'll have a happy year, unmarred by tragedy. Too, in these days of strictly regulated family budgets, it is worth remembering that high automobile insurance rates are the inevitable result of a high accident record—and that only safe driving can bring them down.

To the Taxpayers

OF ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP:

On April 4, 1933, we go to the polls to vote for various officers who will handle the expenditures of public funds for the next four years.
You may not realize that your town board is your main factor and that the burden of assessment and the handling of your money rests entirely in the hands of the board.

IF ELECTED JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, I WILL—

1. Maintain a docket which will be an open record, and I will make monthly audits and remittances to their respective funds.
2. Make monthly reports to the supervisor and village board as well as to the state's attorney's office.
3. Will not issue warrants, except in cases of necessity, without first consulting the State's Attorney's office.
4. Co-operate with the supervisor and all members of the township board and village officials.
5. Aid in the unemployment situation with the co-operation of the various business men, resort owners, taxpayers, state, county and village officials.
6. Maintain an office in the business district of Antioch where my official services will be available at all times.
7. Consult the taxpayers of Antioch township before voting on any issue that involves the expenditure of public funds.
8. Prove the value of electing a constructive man to the membership of the Antioch town board, as the taxpayers' vault is in their hands.
9. Justice of the peace is a fee office, and fines collected belong to certain funds prescribed by law. Fines collected for traffic violations go to the road and bridge fund of the village and township, making possible the maintenance of roads. The more revenue received from this source the better roads we will have and also more labor employed in the construction and upkeep of roads.

Partisan politics has no part in the honest and business-like administration of the affairs of our local government. Taxpayers are demanding a new deal.

The Golden Text was, "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations" (Psalms 33:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth" (Isaiah 37:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is the divine Principle, Love, and can produce nothing unlike the eternal Father-Mother, God. Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal" (p. 323).

W-L-S Merry-Go-Round
Continued success of its theatrical ventures has prompted Radio Station WLS to make a road show unit of the popular Saturday afternoon feature, known as the WLS Merry-Go-Round. This informal weekly feature, like its predecessor, the WLS National Barn Dance unit show, has attracted so many listeners to the Prairie Farmer studios that several weeks ago it became necessary to close the Washington boulevard building promptly at 1 P. M. Finding this out, the station's listeners began crowding the studios as early as 9 A. M. to await a performance not scheduled until 2 P. M. Overcrowding even under these conditions hurried the decision to build a merry-go-round program for a traveling unit.

The new road show is made up of the cream of the WLS talent and will present twelve of the outstanding performers of the air. Among them are Carl and Harty, the Renfro Valley Boys—with their homely mountain airs and costumes; Lulu Belle, the hill-billy girl with the natural flare for comedy and an excellent yodeling voice; "Ramblin'" Red Foley, the guitar strumming troubador who has become one of America's most popular range song and ballad singers; John Lahr, leading authority on folk music and an excellent singer; Slim Miller, outstanding exponent of the rural fiddlin' skill, and outstanding creator of comedy antics; Eddie Allen, the Dixie harmonica king; "Sparerbe," (Malcolm Chairo) mimic and delineator of humorous colored characters; Billy Wood, xylophone expert; Sue and Sally, comedy dancing duo, and the Ridge Runners with Linda Parker.

Seven Nations Represented in Exhibit Covering Period of Past 125 Years in Shawl History

From attics, and the depths of old trunks, Antioch women, who treasure their old possessions, this week brought out a collection of shawls representing the fashions of Italy, Spain, England, Scotland, Mexico and Sweden as well as all parts of the United States and covering a period of 125 years. The display, exhibited at the Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon, included a variety of rare old paisleys, cashmere shawls, fringed bright silks, a black lace mantilla, knitted and crocheted shawls, white shawls, bright shawls, and black shawls, shawls which have given years of serviceable wear, and shawls which have never been asked to do more than rest lightly on a lady's shoulders.

The oldest shawl in the exhibit, dating back 125 years, was a faded square of black wool embroidered with flowers of colored silk floss, owned by Mrs. N. Burnett. Several paisleys varying in age from 100 years to 120 years, were on display. A piece of Mrs. Burnett's wedding shawl which is about sixty years old was a part of her collection shown.

Bartlett Christening Shawl
One of the smallest shawls on exhibit was a christening shawl, made of a sheer white cotton fabric, which has been in use in the family of Mrs. George Bartlett for more than a hundred years. Mrs. Bartlett's mother having been baptized in it as well as Mrs. Bartlett and her children. A black lace square shawl with a delicate flower pattern, bought in England, and a black wool shawl with a silk paisley border bought in London at about that time, were also displayed by Mrs. Bartlett.

A white headed shawl was brought to the exhibit by Mrs. Andrew Peterson who purchased it from Williams Brothers Store in 1882 when she was still Miss Anna Sorenson. Several white shawls from Mrs. D. A. Williams' collection were on display including two which were bought at the World's Expositions, one a white shawl embroidered shawl a souvenir of the St. Louis Exposition in 1904 and the other was bought in California at the Panama Exposition in 1915. A small lace shoulder cape, dated about 1835, is also owned by Mrs. Williams.

Exchanged for Wheat
Among black cashmere shawls shown, was one owned by Mrs. Guy Ellis who says it was purchased in 1883 in exchange for a bushel of wheat. With the black lace shawl placed a beaded, black silk shawl, much like those worn this past season. The cape is sixty-five years old and is owned by Mrs. Frank Boone.

One constantly hears that "the romance of discovery is dead." But nothing could be farther from the truth. Where do you get more Comfort or Convenience?

Electricity is a busy servant. It sweeps carpets, washes and irons clothes, helps with the cooking. It's on the job day and night with no afternoons off.

Electricity is an ice-man. It keeps a refrigerator safely chilled below the danger point. It delivers ice cubes.

Electricity is a master entertainer. It brings the finest opera and comedy, dance music and the news of the world into the living room.

Electricity is a light-maker and an interior decorator. It illuminates dimly or brightly, according to the mood—one room or a whole house, according to the occasion.

Electricity is a mistress, a janitor, a personal maid, a nurse.

In half a score of roles, electricity is making your home more cheerful, more comfortable, more carefree. Plug in an extension cord or snap a switch and it's ready to answer orders.

Behind these outlets and switches is a complicated system of service. Tons of crushed coal are fed into furnaces to keep boilers steaming. Machinery is humming. Men are constantly on watch. Out along the lines more men are on duty to keep miles of copper wire, buried underground and swinging overhead, pulsing with current every minute. More than 3,000 employees are working throughout this system to bring you continuous 24-hour service.

And yet, for all this service, you pay very little. The bill for all the electricity used amounts to only a small portion of the family budget. Where else could you possibly get more comfort and convenience?

Ag Research Aids Farmer

U. of I. Experiment Station Holds Outstanding Record.

When the public turns to economy, it begins to see a higher value in the research and experimental work such as is being conducted by the experiment station of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says Director H. W. Mumford. The record of that work is full of results which have reduced losses and wastes, produced the same output with less labor and money, paved the way to the production of higher quality crops, led to the development of more efficient marketing and overcome some of the risks of farming, thereby benefiting both the farmer and the consumer. Such results are the essence of economy.

For example, there is now a loss of more than $10,000,000 annually as a result of damage to perishables during shipment. Food producers and food users are the ones who eventually pay this bill. Damaged shipments have been inspected and studied in freight yards and produce terminals. Such studies by investigators of the Illinois experiment station have yielded suggestions which if adopted countrywide would reduce the loss by half, with consequent savings to the farmer and to the consumer.

The live stock industry of the state, which a few years ago was bringing farmers a gross income of $36,000,000, furnishes another example. Bang's disease, a contagious malady which causes the premature birth of calves and leads to other losses, is taking a toll of millions of dollars annually from cattle herd owners of the state. By means of research and investigation, a simple and practical plan has been worked out for controlling this malady through blood testing of the cows and sanitary management of the herd, thereby making it possible to rebuild healthy herds at a minimum cost. Working through qualified veterinarians and other interested agencies, the University has extended the benefits of this plan to more than 900 herd owners in 94 counties of the state. One of these, Leonard E. Davis, of Coles county, stopped an annual loss of $200 on his farm. At this rate, the saving to the 900 farmers would amount to $180,000 a year. More farmers are enrolling in the project every year.

An estimated 1,650,000 bushels of corn which Illinois farmers lose every year as a result of the ravages of an insect known as the corn root aphid can be reduced by half through the use of proper rotations demonstrated in co-operative studies between the experiment station and the Illinois State Natural History Survey. The saving goes beyond the 1,650,000 bushels of corn. It includes valuable seed that might otherwise be wasted, the farmer's time and labor and the use of his machinery, power and land.

Approximately $75,000 to $100,000 a year has been saved for orchardists of southern Illinois as a result of improved methods of spraying for San Jose scale. Ten years ago this pest was so serious that an outbreak in southern Illinois destroyed more than 300,000 bearing apple trees, wiping out the investment which growers had made in previous years for trees, labor, spray materials, and fertilizers and delaying the possibility of return from their land.

At that time lime sulfur sprays were practically the only commercial control known. Oil sprays developed since then cost approximately one-third as much as the lime sulfur sprays for covering the same acreage of orchard, are more easily applied and will kill from 85 to 95 per cent of the scale, whereas the lime sulfur sprays killed from 90 to 92 per cent. These are only a few of the examples of the widespread benefits from the work of the University Agricultural Experiment Station. Scores of similar instances might be cited of how the research and experimental work is benefiting both farmer and consumer through reducing wastes and losses, improving the quality of products and developing ways of marketing them more efficiently and profitably.

HOG RAISERS USE U. I. METHODS TO IMPROVE INCOME

Demonstrated Pork Production Adds Millions to Incomes.

Hogs bring in more than 25 per cent of the cash income of Illinois farmers, which means almost $150,000,000 annually under ordinary prices prevailing a few years ago. On January 1 of this past year there were 4,940,000 hogs on Illinois farms. If economical methods of pork production as demonstrated throughout the state by the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, had been used on all these hogs, the added return over common methods, at January, 1932, prices, would have amounted to almost $13,500,000.

As a matter of fact, widespread use of the approved methods is now being made throughout the state and more farmers are taking up the plan every year as a result of the Illinois extension service program in economical pork production. At the end of 1932 it was reported that 3,195 farmers in different parts of the state were endeavoring to follow the methods.

Results of one of the experiments showed that soybeans can be used for brood sows without injuring the quality of the resulting pork. The 700,000 sows and boars in Illinois could handle an average of four bushels of soybeans a year. This would make a total of 2,800,000 bushels, almost one-half of Illinois' 1932 crop of 6,300,000 bushels.

If the U. of I. of Illinois were closed entirely, and the money were not appropriated for some other purpose, the annual saving to taxpayers of the state would amount to only about three-fourths of one cent on the average tax dollar paid in property taxes. For a person paying $100 in property taxes, closing the University would save him about seventy-five cents.

Suggestions for Preparing and Serving:

Menu I—Mix the tuna fish and peas in equal proportions for the salad. Add chopped boiled eggs if desired and use mayonnaise for dressing.

Menu II—Serve the liver and bacon in the center of a platter with the apples arranged on the outside around the meat. The beans should be baked in a casserole with marshmallows on top. The gingerbread may be served plain, with hard sauce or with whipped cream.

Menu III—Cook a tart rhubarb sauce for the fruit cup. Freshly made potato chips will be delicious with this meal. The salad can be served very attractively by arranging portions on cupped lettuce leaves and placing them on a silver or glass platter.

Menu IV—Bread and brown the veal chops on the top of the stove, then add water, and place in a medium oven for three quarters of an hour. Make the gelatin salad by substituting tomato juice for part of the water to be added to the gelatin. A slice of green pepper may be placed in the center if the salads are made in molds. Make a rich baking powder biscuit for the shortcake and pour over it a sweet rhubarb sauce.

Menu V—The ham loaf can be made from left overs from a baked ham. Grind the meat fine, then mix with it two or three eggs and season. Bake frequently with water to keep the loaf moist. Any kind of fruits can be used for the salad; the dressing should be chosen according to the type of salad desired. Grapefruit is excellent with french dressing; a mixed fruit salad is best with a cooked dressing thinned with whipped cream, and mayonnaise is delicious with pineapple, peaches, pears or bananas. Cream cheese blended with a small amount of horseradish, or with pimento, will make a good celery stuffing for this meal.

Oil of lavender added to kerosene will make it more pleasant to use in cleaning the bathtub and washbowl. Kerosene will quickly remove grease rings from porcelain fixtures and leave them with a high gloss.

Last year's sultan which by this time of year has often faded to a dingy, yellow shade, may be removed from the neck and arms by applying peroxide, to which a small amount of lemon juice is added, several times a week. Follow with cold cream.

A turkish towel, placed in the bottom of the dishpan when delicate china or glass ware is being washed, will prevent chipping.

Splitting a bunch of celery in half and the halves into further divisions, will leave each stalk with a portion of the heart attached.

In our house, toward the end of winter, these three desserts come into particular favor. Their rich fruity flavor adds a real zest to the meal; they are so easy to make and so easy on the pocketbook.

Deep-dish Apple Tapioca

1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca; 3 tart apples, thinly sliced; 3/4 cup hot water; 1/2 cup seedless raisins; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup molasses; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg; 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon; 2 tablespoons butter.

Combine ingredients in greased baking dish. Mix thoroughly. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 40 minutes, or until apples are done, stirring well after 10 minutes and again after 20 minutes of baking. Serve hot or cold with lemon or hard sauce or with whipped cream. Serves 6.

Deep-dish Cherry Tapioca

1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca; 2 1/2 cups canned sour red cherries, drained; 4 cups hot water and cherry juice; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg; 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon; 2 tablespoons melted butter.

Combine ingredients in greased baking dish. Mix thoroughly. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 40 minutes, or until done, stirring well after 10 minutes and again after 20 minutes of baking. Serves 6.

Apricot and Pineapple Tapioca

1/2 cup dried apricots; 3/4 cup water; 1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 2 slices canned pineapple, finely cut; 1/2 cup pineapple juice; juice of 1/2 lemon; 1/3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1/2 cup white sugar.

Soak apricots in water overnight. Drain. Measure and add enough water to make 3 cups. Place apricots and water, tapioca, salt, pineapple and pineapple juice, and lemon juice in buttered baking dish. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Add sugar, decrease heat slightly (350° F.), and bake 20 minutes longer. Serve with cream. Serves 6.

Hawaiian Pudding

1/3 cup quick-cooking tapioca; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 3 cups boiling water; 3 tablespoons brown sugar; 1 cup canned pineapple juice; 3 tablespoons melted butter; 4 slices canned pineapple.

2 egg whites; 4 tablespoons sugar. Add quick-cooking tapioca and salt to boiling water, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Add enough water to fill a 2-quart casserole. Add pineapple juice to make 1 cup. Add pineapple slices and butter to tapioca mixture. Turn into large, shallow baking dish. Arrange pineapple slices on top. To prepare meringue, beat egg whites until foamy, add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, until sugar is thoroughly blended. Until a stiff peak is reached. Place a heaping tablespoon of meringue in center of each slice of pineapple. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, or until meringue is delicately browned. Serve, hot or cold. Serves 6.

A Record and Plans
Made at the Window
Will Help a Garden

If the snow of last week-end discouraged the enthusiasms of the woman who makes her garden a hobby, the spring rain yesterday brought those enthusiasms into full bloom again. With April two days away, it is time to think of our gardens.

It's the early start which makes a garden all that a gardener hopes it will be. It's these days when it's too early for real gardening, and yet late enough for planning, which brings forth the best results. You can do some of the most valuable work in your garden, now, sitting at the window with your chin cupped in your hand and your eyes bent reflectively on the sodden, unpromising earth.

If you're at a loss how to start your gardening from a comfortable chair at the window, find a notebook and a pencil and start a garden record. If you've never kept notes before on your garden, you won't know until you've started how valuable it will be, not only this year, but next.

Gardens at this time of the year should be cleaned, dried leaves and stalks from plants torn away, rose bushes pruned, and the ground prepared for planting the hardier flowers. As an early experiment, some seeds may be started in the house, to be transplanted later.

Make your plans carefully keeping in mind that:

1. When one flower stops blooming you will want it replaced by another if you want your garden to be lovely late in the year.

2. The flowers in a bed should be arranged with an eye to color harmony.

3. The bed should be visualized as a whole in order to help you in placing the plants. Don't have a tall border which conceals a dwarf row of flowers inside.

4. If you like flowers for the house, remember that all plants do not make attractive bouquets, and that you will be loathe to cut flowers which are thinly sown.

5. Your garden will best hold your interest if it grows from year to year. Add something new each season, and the expenditure will seem small, but the results in the long run will be large.

CHOOSING FOODS WISELY

By ADELAIDE SPOHN, Ph. D.

Nutritionist of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund and Director of Nutrition Service, Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Food Sense Saves Food Dollars

We have reason to believe that proper nutrition is the most important single factor in the maintenance of good health. It behooves us therefore in this present situation, when economy has become the watchword of the times, to apply the pruning shears with discrimination. To provide adequate nutrition, the diet of a family must furnish enough carbohydrates, fats and proteins to yield the standard energy needs of the various members of the family group. In interest of economy, we must make these the carriers of the other dietary essentials: first, sufficient proteins of good quality for growth and maintenance of body tissues; second, enough of the essential mineral elements; and third, enough of each of the necessary vitamins.

During the World War, when food saving and economy became necessary, Miss Lucy Gillett, of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, gave the following advice: Divide your money into fifths and spend one-fifth, more or less, for fruits and vegetables; one-fifth or more for milk and cheese; one-fifth or less for meat, fish and eggs; one-fifth or more for bread and cereals; one-fifth or less for fats and sugars and other groceries. This is still good advice. Many families on restricted incomes would live more economically, and at the same time eat more healthful food, if this plan were followed. If further retrenchment is necessary, this should not be effected by reducing the amount of milk in the diet. The expenditure for milk may well amount to one-third of the week's food budget, and somewhat more than one-fifth should be spent for fruits and vegetables. Cereals, when chosen, may also supply some of the important minerals and vitamins and should not be reduced. The saving should take place rather in the other two food groups, namely, meat and fish, and fats and sugar.

The following guide for meal planning should prove helpful:

Every Day.

Milk, a pint for each adult and if possible a quart for each child.

Breads and cereals, such as cornmeal, oatmeal, wheat cereals, rice.

Oranges or canned tomatoes especially for children.

Potatoes.

Another vegetable, fresh or canned.

Two or three times a week this vegetable should be a green one, such as spinach, cabbage, turnip tops, string beans.

Two to Four Times a Week.

A fruit, dried or fresh.

Dried beans or peas.

Eggs, especially for children.

Meat, fish or cheese.

No matter what scheme is followed in planning well balanced diets, milk is of paramount importance and should be given first consideration. It should never be omitted from the diet, no matter how limited the budget may be. The ideal allowance is a quart of milk for every child and for the pregnant and nursing mother. Every one should have at least a pint of milk each day.

Cereals and breads, of necessity, make up the bulk of a low-cost diet. Some whole grain cereals, such as oatmeal, whole wheat cereal and brown rice, should be included, since they are particularly rich in vitamin B, in phosphorus and iron.

Fruits and vegetables are the third essential group of foods. The citrus fruits head the list in importance and should be used generously when they are cheap. Fortunately when this is not the case, tomato juice, either canned or fresh, may take their place in the diet as a valuable source of Vitamin C. Only fruits and vegetables in season should be chosen. Apples may be bought at a low price during most of the year. Bananas are often cheap and when properly ripened, are an excellent food, even for children. The dried fruits, especially prunes, apricots, peaches and black figs should be used generously. They are cheap and an excellent source of iron. Potatoes should be used at least once a day or even more often in extremely low-cost diets. At least one other vegetable should be provided each day.

U. of I. Seeks 21% Less Than
Two Years Ago

Legislative Request Is Also 25% Less Than 1929-31 Appropriation.

The University of Illinois has reduced by $2,380,000 its legislative request for the coming biennium as compared to the appropriation made to it by the last General Assembly. President H. W. Chase has announced. The new bill asks for $8,900,000 while $11,280,000 was the amount granted two years ago.

The new request is 21 per cent less than that appropriated to the University by the last legislature, and 25 per cent less than the appropriation of 1929-31.

"Salaries of the faculty and administrative staff have already been reduced 10%, and the Board of Trustees has made a reduction of $500,000 in the salaries item of the proposed legislative budget," President Chase said. "The board decided to reduce this item as well as all other items which make up the biennial budget. Consequently the budget which the University will submit to the legislature will call for a total of only $4,450,000 a year for the next biennium."

"The last general assembly appropriated $11,280,000 for the two-year period, which included $1,400,000 for the unit of the Medical and Dental building in Chicago. This money, however, was not used, it was explained, because of the State's financial condition, and, in addition, the University curtailed other expenditures so that a total of approximately $2,500,000 of the appropriation will be unused. The University's savings for the present biennium, therefore, amount to more than 22 per cent of its total State budget."

"Due to economies in the operation of the University during the present biennium it has already reduced its expenditures to practically the amount set in its legislative request for the coming period," President Chase said. "In order to do this, it has been obliged to operate on an emergency basis and it cannot therefore continue on such a total for the next two years without a reduction in salaries."

"On the basis of our last appropriation, we were granted an amount which represented 74 cents per capita of population. We will have used, however, by the end of the University year, only 68 cents per capita. "In fairness to education and to the University itself, the public should bear in mind that if the legislature decided to close the University entirely the annual savings which would result would amount to only about seven-tenths of one cent on the average tax dollar in property taxes."

"Looked upon from this point of view, the money invested by the citizens of Illinois in their University is no widely spread that the cost is no burden to any individual."

Uni. Cuts Expenses
Drastically to Aid
State Finance Crisis

Looking forward to the coming biennium, provision for which must be made by the legislature during the session which has just opened, the University of Illinois has not been unmindful of the necessity for decreasing public expenditures and for balancing public budgets. That the University met this need during the past biennium is evidenced by the fact that it left unused some 22 per cent of the appropriations made to it by the last general assembly.

However, the University is faced with the fact that it is its prime duty to maintain the educational standards of the institution, and, although there are fewer students attending the University than was true two or three years ago, there are still more than 10,000 enrolled. While the decrease in attendance has been greatest in the freshman and sophomore classes where the expense of instruction is lowest, the number of graduate students has shown practically no decrease from the peak and is now twice as many as in 1921. Likewise, there has been no decrease in the college of medicine or in the college of law or other branches where the expense of instruction is highest.

The financial support of the University comes in part from state appropriations, in part from tuition fees, and in part from Federal appropriations, most of which are for specific activities, and in part from incidental sales of surplus and research work. The general concept of the University was that it should be a place where students may secure a college education at little or no expense for tuition. Certain fees, however, are charged in all departments in accordance with the general policy in such institutions based on the theory that the person who receives the immediate benefit should pay at least a portion of the cost.

State appropriations make up about 70% of the total income of the University, derived partly from the General Revenue fund of the state and partly from a special tax of 3 1/2 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation for the support of the University. Of the property taxes paid for all purposes in 1931 by the citizens of the state, about seven-tenths of one cent per dollar were used for the support of the University.

In 1932 the Federal tax on tobacco consumed by the citizens of Illinois exceeded by $1,507,782 the amount asked to operate the University next year according to the report of Internal Revenue receipts from Illinois, the tobacco tax paid was $5,957,782. In 1931 the tax was $6,526,592. The University asks $4,450,000 a year for the next two years.

"I am for educational economies. But I am not for any crippling of our system of public education. We are being asked today to train men and women for a world where the future is far from clear. Our schools are our insurance for the future," said H. W. Chase, President, U. of I.

GRANT SENIORS TO PRESENT CLASS PLAY APRIL 27

Debate, Card Party, Boxing
Show Make Busy Week
for Students

The junior class is sponsoring a card and bunco party to be held on April 17, at the high school auditorium. A novel program is being planned, and refreshments and dancing will follow the party. A number of prizes will be given for each game.

On Friday of last week Mr. Block, President of the Public Service Company of Waukegan, spoke to the student body as a part of the weekly assembly program. His talk, which was given especially for seniors, was of interest to all. Herbert Fakely and Harry Christensen also appeared on the program with some popular music selections.

A debate on the question of Women's suffrage was held by students in the civics class on Monday of this week. The affirmative speakers were Mary Atwell, Edith Atwell, Maxine Margraff, and Geraldine Bister. The negative supporters were Melvin Minahan, David Walper, Christ Lutz, and Russell Rosing. An affirmative decision was returned by the judges.

On Tuesday evening, March 28, a boxing and wrestling show was given at the high school auditorium. The card was made up of local students and students from McHenry High School. There were also three exhibition bouts by boys from Fort Sheridan who were former Golden Glove winners.

The seniors have chosen as their annual class play the three-act comedy, "The Arrival of Kitty." Mrs. Rollins, who will direct the production, has selected the following students as members of the cast: William Winkler, Sven Liljekvist; Bobbie Baxter, Harold Juul; Benjamin Moore, Bernard Clemensen; Ting, Bernard Britz; Aunt Jane, Jean Stratton; Jane, Alzada Meyers; Suzette, Helen Elter; Sam, Gerald Klaus; and Kitty, Geraldine Bister.

The play will be produced on the evening of April 27.

Science Paper States Views on Compulsory Medication in Illinois

The following article is printed from the editorial page of the Christian Science Monitor at the request of Mrs. Hugo Michell.

An organized compulsory medication drive is now going on in Illinois. Two years ago a bill was passed by the legislature making mandatory the treatment of newborn babies' eyes with medicine. The Attorney General ruled that it was unconstitutional. He declared:

"The liberty of a citizen may not be interfered with under the guise of protecting the public interest by legislative action which is arbitrary or without reasonable relation to some purpose within the competency of the state to effect. That the state may do much, go very far, indeed, in order to improve the quality of its citizens, physically, mentally and morally, is clear. But the individual has certain fundamental rights which must be respected."

The Governor thereupon vetoed the bill and was sustained in the Senate. The backers of the measure then began plans for a two-year campaign. They propagandized women's clubs and parent-teacher associations. They obtained the opinion of a professor in a law school that the Attorney General's verdict was unsound and had this criticism published in the press.

Then they went out to win over the outstanding senators who had been against them. One of these reports that church societies and women's clubs have bombarded him, that efforts have been made to reach him through personal friends, that pressure from the highest leaders in his party has been enlisted against him and that he was politically threatened by the secretary of a medical society.

This senator himself is a believer in medicine. He believes in the efficacy of the treatment sought for babies' eyes. His single and fundamental objection is that he does not think it should be compulsory on all people. He has stood for an amendment exempting any baby "whose parents practice healing by prayer or spiritual means as an exercise or enjoyment of religious freedom."

This Illinois campaign is interesting for the fervor which may be worked up on but a small showing of fact. One might suppose that conditions calling for the legislation must be very serious. But a report from the Chicago Board of Health discloses that in that city of 3,000,000 population not a single case of blindness resulted in 1929 from the disease in question. In 1931 and 1932 five babies suffered blindness in one or both eyes. One of these is known to have had the treatment demanded, and another was born in a hospital which uses it regularly.

Had such impartial information been offered the public, support for compulsory treatment would have been harder to obtain. This illustrates one of the questionable aspects of much mandatory health legislation. It is too often asked without the public's being given a complete understanding of its merits.

Various medical measures advanced in all sincerity by their advocates are after all largely experimental. The medical profession itself is not of one opinion.

ELECT EVERETT ORVIS

Candidate for Supervisor

Citizens Ticket

TOWN LAKE VILLA

I believe in the following:

The only way we can reduce taxes is:
Cut down expenses.

Advertise for competitive bids on all public contracts, and let same to lowest responsible bidder.

To the Voters of Lake Villa Township:

Having served two years as president of the Central Lake County Taxpayers' Association, I have intimate knowledge of the accomplishments that have been brought about through the efforts of that organization. The following facts may prove to be of interest to taxpayers of Lake Villa township.

At the regular town meeting at the village hall at Lake Villa in April, 1932, I offered a resolution and moved its adoption that a certain chronic patient who was then a patient at the Lake County Hospital was not a legal resident of the town of Lake Villa and that the township was in no way legally bound to contribute to her support, yet the records show that she was removed from that institution on or about July 8, 1932, to the village of Lake Villa, and that the sum of approximately $750 was expended for her care.

In conjunction with other taxpayers' committees I appeared before the Board of Review in August, 1932, with petitions signed by a large number of taxpayers praying for reductions in assessed valuations as appearing on the assessors' books of the several townships of Lake county. Subsequently a reduction of 15% was granted by the Board of Review. This new valuation is in effect this year and will result in the saving of thousands of dollars to taxpayers.

In February, 1933, I appeared before the Illinois State Commerce Commission with petitions prepared and signed by the several taxpayers' associations in Lake county which were accepted and placed on file by that body by the order of the chairman thereof, for the reduction of electric, gas and telephone rates. This petition has been endorsed by nearly every village and city in Lake county only to be turned down by a majority vote of the present Lake County Board of Supervisors at their March, 1933, session.

At Special sessions of the Board of Supervisors called on November 10, 1932 and January 18, 1933 allocations of $200,000 ($100,000 at each session) of gasoline tax funds for unemployment relief were voted, and although Lake Villa's share on the plan adopted would have been approximately $3,500.00 this township will receive according to the published records, only $1,000.00. This money when paid back by general taxes will be based on the assessed value of the various towns and not upon what each town received.

Waukegan and Zion townships allotments were two and one-half times what those townships should have received, based upon population and property valuation figures, notwithstanding the fact that the same townships have received $192,000.00 for unemployment relief from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and previous gas tax allotments, which must be paid back by general taxation in the future.

If elected to the office of supervisor of Lake Villa township, I believe I could prevent such excessive bills as are allowed by a majority vote of the county board, a few items of which are listed below:

The following bills were turned back by the auditing committee on sheriff's bills at the December session, only to be referred to the miscellaneous committee, and allowed with only two dissenting votes:

Gas bill	$1,664.36
Trips by Lester Tiffany	1,274.04
Miscellaneous repairs and oil	688.72
Repairs on new Cadillac car	354.45
Repairs on Studebaker car	322.64

These and other bills totaling $6,700.90 were oked by the miscellaneous claims committee of which Supervisor Stratton is a member.

Other bills allowed by other committees include: Supervisor's expense for trip to Springfield, $50.00; telephone bills at Court House, (3 mo.) $1,552.00; repairs and expenses on Sheriff's cars (9 mo.) $11,218.39. These are only a few samples of the sort of claims the august Board of Supervisors allow at every session. Would it not be well to insist that all such apparently excessive bills be itemized?

The recently purchased new trucks for county highway maintenance cost approximately $15,000 in addition to the trade-in value of the six old trucks, despite the fact that there had been submitted estimates that the old trucks could have been equipped to comply with the statute in the matter of hard tires, for approximately $500 per truck. This can be verified by a resident and a voter in Lake Villa.

Our town tax rate is among the highest in Lake county, and I believe that it can be materially reduced with the co-operation of the town board. Resolutions to this effect were passed at the town meeting last year.

I pledge myself to use my best efforts to bring about material reductions in the town and county expenses and also to obtain our just share of all money appropriated for unemployment relief.

On this platform my candidacy is respectfully submitted.
